TikTok

1. TikTok allows users to create, share, and discover short videos.
2. Tiktok can be a creative outlet and common way for teens to stay up to date to social trends.
3. Tiktok challenges are videos that get copied by users. They range from fun choreographed dances to silly pranks to dangerous stunts.
4. Videos are easily edited and may give teens false sense of reality.
5. Consider using the "Digital Wellbeing" settings to enable "screen time management", "restricted mode", and "family pairing".

HOW DO WE FUEL THE BRAIN?

- CARBOHYDRATES are the dominant source of fuel for the brain
 - The human brain is made up of a dense network of neurons (nerve cells) that are constantly active — even during sleep
 - The brain relies on a continuous supply of glucose (which comes from dietary carbohydrates) in the bloodstream, NOT fatty acids (dietary fat)
 - If we run out of glucose obtained from food, the body can break down glycogen that is stored in the liver which then becomes glucose
